The Mausoleum fence has received a genuine furnishing recently. It is now resplendent in jet black and gold, and has a gay and festive look about it which is not at all in keeping with the sombre character of the place.

On or about Saturday, March 5th the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s elegant steamer City of New York will call here, en route from Hongkong to San Francisco. Here is an opportunity for intending passengers, or letter writers.

Dr. Mott Smith and family were in Paris by the last accounts. They would proceed to Rome early in February, and after spending a month in that city, would then go to Dresden. In May Dr. and Mrs. Smith will return to the United States.

The officers of the various military companies have apparently overlooked the "cast iron" oath for military service, but the "bould sodger boys" don't seem to "catch on," and at present are meditating what they are going to do about it.

A neat monogram has been executed for Mr. W. S. Luce for a wine label. The wood-cutting is by Henry Grube, a young half-white who shows decided talent. With practice he will do excellent work and should find ample support in the city.

Capt. Bates of the steamer W. G. Hall, which arrived Friday evening, reports that there is no new flow on Mauna Loa. Capt. Bates reports plenty of rain on the Kona and Kau side, and vast quantities of steam arising from the bed of the lake flow.

Mr. J. E. Wiseman arrived by the Mariposa on Thursday, and after surveying his old "stamping ground," concluded that the area was too small for his calibre, and decided, to keep right on for the Colonies, much to the disgust of some of his interested friends.

Last Saturday the steamer Kinan arrived in port with the largest cargo of sugar ever brought by a coasting steamer to Honolulu—1,150 bags. Notwithstanding the handling of this large amount of sugar, the Kinan managed to put in an early appearance on Saturday.

Consul General Putnam gives notice that it is not necessary for the consular officials to furnish clothing for the wrecked sailors of the brig Selma, as Uncle Sam has already done so, and provided for their other wants as well until such times as they are sent to San Francisco.

The foot ball match played on Saturday between a team from the Royal School and a picked team from Fort Street School and St. Albans' College resulted in a draw, each side counting one goal when time was called. The play was lively and the boys did themselves credit.

Mr. A. M. Hewitt, formerly with J. H. Cooper, returned by the Mariposa, with a stock of paper and stationery, and has opened a store in the Campbell Block, where he will meet all his friends and furnish them with the latest news and supply their wants in the stationery line.

On Friday the lower part of Nuuanu street was supplied with a liberal amount of black sand, which will even up the ruts until the next heavy rain, when this will, in all probability, be shunted into the harbor, to be scooped up later on by the dredge and dumped on the Esplanade.

By the Geo. C. Perkins, Mr. F. L. Clarke, wife and daughter, were passengers for the Const. Mr. Clarke, it is reported goes armed with some kind of a roving commission for the Palace. The King was on the wharf to bid his envoy special instructions and bid himself and family bon voyage.

The Captain of the Geo. C. Perkins, in the hurry of the moment, went to sea on Friday, without his ship's papers. The tug Eletu, which towed the Perkins to sea, was returning when met by a boat with a messenger from the agents, Messrs. F. A. Schaefer & Co., and Capt. Rice kindly turned the steamer's head seaward, and was soon alongside of the Geo. C. Perkins, and the important papers placed in the hands of the astonished Captain who had quite forgotten them.

The alarm of fire on Saturday evening, on Nuuanu Street, just makai of the City Market, was occasioned by the upsetting of a lamp, setting fire to the building, and severely burning a native woman. A few buckets of water had the fire subdued before the arrival of the fire engines. The building was of wood, and it was fortunate the fire was nipped in time, else a serious conflagration might have been the result.

The workmanship is first class, and the time occupied in making them less than a week.

The Mariposa left San Francisco at 4:55 a. m. of Friday, February 18th, and at 2 p. m. same day passed the steamer Zealandia, bound inland. The latter steamer, it will be remembered, left this port at 3 p. m. Saturday, 12th instant, and in all probability reached San Francisco on the evening of the 18th.

Mr. D. P. Smith returned by the Mariposa, and brought with him about 500 electric lights—350 for the Palace and 150 for the Hawaiian Hotel—Mr. W. O. Fackler, of the Thomson-Houston Electric Company, who will immediately proceed to place these lights in position. A new boiler and engine of 100 horse power is also to arrive to furnish the motive power for the electricity, which will be placed in position within the Palace enclosure.

An elegant Calendar for the year 1887, has been placed on the editor's table from the celebrated Ginger Ale Manufacture of W. A. Ross & Co. of Belfast, Ireland. This card is one of the neatest and most tastefully executed of the kind. Besides the calendar, the firm's business card, the border is adorned with the colors of the principal nations of the earth, and also shows the difference in time between Greenwich and the great business centres of the globe. It will prove useful as well as ornamental in the counting room or household. Mr. W. S. Luce is the agent.

HAWAII.

Mr. John Stabler took passage on the Dora Blumh on Tuesday, February 22d, from Hilo for San Francisco.

Hon. D. H. Hitchcock and party returned from the mountain on Tuesday last, having gone only to the snow line.

The smoke issuing from Mauna Loa arises from the crevice and openings formed from the Kahuku flow of 1887 and Mokuaweoweo.

Rev. E. P. Baker returned to Hilo from the top of Mauna Loa and Kauai Friday, February 18th. He had a pretty rough trip of it, and saw plenty of snow as well as fire.

The three-masted schooner Dora Blumh, Captain Blumh, cleared from Hilo on Tuesday, February 22d, with a full cargo of sugar for San Francisco. She took 254 tons sugar from Waiakae Mill Co., 236 tons from Hilo Sugar Co., 65 tons from Papaikou Sugar Co., and a lot of hides, ginger, etc.

On Sunday evening, February 20th, while the family were at church, some person entered the house of Mr. L. Severance, at Hilo, and stole all the jewelry and about $3 in cash belonging to Mrs. Severance, wrenching from the top of the bureau the box fastened thereon which contained the sum. On retiring for the night the loss was discovered, and the thieves traced and the box recovered in a lot makai of the house. The jewelry was all recovered, but the money had been taken.

Captain Blumh, of the schooner Dora Blumh, while loading sugar at Hilo very early Monday morning, February 21st, fell into the fore hold of the vessel, receiving severe injuries to head and back. He was unconscious till after he was taken from the hold of the ship and placed in the boat to be brought on shore for medical treatment. Capt. Blumh recovered from his injuries sufficiently to be able to go on board his vessel and leave for the Coast on Tuesday morning, February 22d.

Rev. J. A. Cruzan.

Last week the GAZETTE announced the resignation of the Rev. J. A. Cruzan, which was genuine and true to this gentleman's many friends, more particularly the younger portion, who have a kindly aloha for him and his estimable wife, and would gladly have them remain in their midst in their career of usefulness. A communication in the Herald, signed "Non-Clerical," perhaps has not been altogether correct. The information of Mr. Cruzan's hearers, correctly, Mr. Cruzan has replied to in a kindly way, giving good and sufficient reasons why he cannot remain beyond the time stated in his resignation. Mr. Cruzan and wife will leave these shores feeling that their labors here have not been altogether in vain, and that many kind friends and well-wishers remain behind who will always be glad to hear of the success of the good and genial pastor and his wife in their new field in the old stamping ground—"the land of the free," etc.

The Planters' Monthly.

This magazine has been laid on the desk. As usual, it contains much of interest both to the sugar planters and the general reader. The editor's remarks upon a home market for sugar are to the point. It is really absurd that refined sugar from San Francisco is sold cheaper than raw sugar from our plantations. If a special brand of sugar were made for home consumption, there can be no doubt that a good paying business, in a small way, could be established. The advice upon the "Skillful Manufacture of Sugar" should be laid carefully to heart. Most sugar manufacturers are striving to overcome difficulties and stop leaks. The article upon earthquakes and volcanic eruptions comes from an experienced pen, and sheds light upon the interesting phenomenon. The information relative to the vanilla bean is of importance. This vine is cultivated in Barbados where it forms a considerable article of commerce, and the natives make a good profit when they take pains in the curing. The export of sugar in Hawaii is shown in tabular form for the last ten years, and gives a capital idea of the immense increase of our great staple. Communications are published upon the "Fern Fertilizer," the "Eucalyptus Tree," and "Economy in Fuel," all of which are interesting and practical. Two instalments of Mr. Alexander's letters from South America appear, together with other interesting matter upon various topics which interest our planters. The number is an able one, and the "Planters' Monthly" compares favorably with most, and excels many of the sugar magazines in the world.

Ramie.

Mr. E. Lyman, of Hilo, who is in town, reports that he has completed his new ramie cleaning machine, which promises to overcome all difficulties and produce a marketable article of this valuable fibre. Mr. W. S. Webster, practical engineer, has also returned from Hilo, after perfecting his machine in position, reports that Mr. Lyman's ramie reports his ramie crop in fine condition, and seems confident that success will crown his efforts in producing a really good article of ramie fibre, which can readily be disposed of at remunerative figures. If Mr. Lyman's hopes are realized here is another industry to be placed to the credit of Hawaii's productions.

Blue Ribbon Society.

On Saturday evening last, at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, a neat little entertainment was given by the Blue Ribbon Society to a large and appreciative audience. The Rev. H. H. Gossen conducted the opening exercises, and made a brief address. Mr. J. W. Crozier, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, had charge of the exercises. The programme was varied—music, vocal and instrumental, readings, etc., all of which were rendered in a manner that elicited the warmest applause from the audience, some calling for an encore. After the meeting a number of those present came forward and signed the pledge. Next Saturday evening a similar entertainment will be given, when an attractive programme will be presented. Mrs. Hanford and Mr. Morse will furnish the music. Mr. J. E. Brown and Mr. McDonald will read selections, and Rev. Mr. Ogden will deliver an address. All are invited.

Cosmorama Views.

Last evening a private exhibition of Cosmorama Views was given to members of the press and a few invited guests at McCarthy's old stand, the Astor House, Hotel street. The exhibition is composed of twenty-two views, in the main rooms, giving life-like scenes of some of the finest sights in Europe and America, by means of powerful lenses. The transparencies are really good, and are alone worth seeing.

There are also four revolving stereoscopes, with two hundred pictures, all attached, which give life-like views of the different subjects. In the Cosmorama views is shown Furnace's picture of the Great Lava Flow of 1887, which is alone worth the price of admission. This novel entertainment will be open to the public to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, and ought to draw a good house. The price of admission has been placed at twenty-five cents, bringing it within the reach of all. Go and see it.

The Japanese Acrobats.

The Ours Company of Japanese Acrobats arrived by the steamship Gaelic, en route to San Francisco, and have been induced to remain over for a short season. This company has received the highest testimonials as to ability wherever it has appeared, and a few rehearsals here to invited guests have confirmed these reports.

The Music Hall has been secured for their entertainments in this city, and to-night the company appear for the first time. Some of their acts are really wonderful, and at first sight seem impossible, yet they are accomplished with the most perfect ease and grace imaginable.

Mr. W. H. Aldrich, of this city has kindly taken the company in hand, and will act as agent during the stay in Honolulu. The indications at present are that a full house will greet the troupe on its first appearance before a Honolulu audience. The box plan is now open at the Elite Ice Cream Saloon, Hotel street, where tickets may also be procured, and all other particulars learned.

Building.

Nearly all the brick buildings in hand are approaching completion, or are turned over to their owners.

The new Chinese Club House, erected by Mr. Mayhew, is now enclosed, and outwardly presents a very neat appearance.

Mr. Lucas has the new building on Nuuanu street, between King and Queen streets, all enclosed, and the front cemented, giving it the appearance of cut stone. The same gentleman has also enclosed the building for Messrs. Mendonca and Selig, on the corner of Hotel and Nuuanu streets. The building for Mr. J. Holt, opposite the Queen Emma park, on Nuuanu street, is nearly ready for a roof. The building for Mr. S. M. Damon on Bethel Street, has received the roofing and is now occupied by the Press Publishing Co. The brick work of the Holt building it is fair to state was done by the Harrison Brothers, for Mr. Lucas.

Mr. E. P. Thomas has the two-story building on the corner of King and Nuuanu streets, ready for the roof, and will shortly close up the gap on King street between Castle and Cooke's and the corner of Nuuanu street. On the first of March, Mr. Thomas commences on Mr. McInerney's new building which will extend from the Castle Block on Merchant street, to Mr. W. E. Foster's, on Port Street. The first portion will be commenced where now stands the "Snow building," which will be immediately removed. This promises to be one of the finest structures in the city—its roof will be composed of iron and plate glass.

Mr. Asen has about completed the building of a one-story brick structure on King street, just west of the building on the corner of King and Nuuanu, closing the gap between the Chinese Club House and the Merchant's Exchange.

Altogether the burnt district is pretty well occupied by new buildings, all of a much better class, many being brick. The only vacant sites being on King street where the old Station House stood, and on the corner of King and Smith streets, also the East corner of Hotel and Smith streets. There are two vacant sites on Nuuanu street, one just below the Empire Saloon and the other, a small one immediately opposite.

Treaty Notes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Claus Spreckels arrived here on Thursday to look after the Hawaiian Reciprocity Treaty. The proposed new treaty extends the period of reciprocity for a period of seven years. The measure is originally suggested by the Senate, and is now in the hands of King Kalakaua for acceptance. The treaty was got through the Senate by a bare majority, and that body in the shape of a grant to this country the exclusive use of Pearl River harbor, which would require an expenditure of $100,000 to make it all occupiable. It is probable that the treaty to extend the period of reciprocity would not have passed the Senate if this glittering but pinbeck trinket had not been thrown in.

There has been no doubt here for some time that the whole scheme of the Pearl River session was originally suggested by the sugar ring, and that His Majesty will gladly accept it as a condition of the extension of the treaty; but the House must give its assent to the treaty before it can become a law. This is the view taken by the leading lawyers of the House. Spreckels' presence here is taken to mean that he wants the treaty increased by the House. The Louisiana planters oppose the treaty, and the Louisiana members of the House believe they can defeat the passage of a resolution approving it. Spreckels came here by way of New Orleans, where it is believed that he had some communication with the sugar ring.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—[Special].—It is understood that King Kalakaua does not approve of the amendment adopted by the Senate to the Hawaiian Treaty, insisting upon the session to the United States of Pearl River Harbor as a coaling and naval station for the Hawaiian Government. It does not object to this amendment because it is opposed to the ceding of any of its territory to the United States. On the contrary, it would be very glad to make the concession but for the fact that there are doubts of its acceptance by the House of Representatives. A simple renewal of the existing treaty for a period of seven years would not require any legislation by the House. The concurrence of the Senate would be sufficient, but if this amendment should be agreed to it is claimed that legislation would be required by the House to make the treaty operative. Without discussing the merits of this technical proposition, it is stated that the King will not risk the possibility of a rejection of this important concession. It is said that the President will send a message to the Senate advising a renewal of the treaty for a period of three years.
